Use this table of contents (TOC) as an example of what one looks like. When it comes time for creating your own TOC, RIGHT CLICK anywhere in the Table of Contents, select UPDATE FIELD, then select UPDATE ENTIRE TABLE or UPDATE PAGE NUMBERS ONLY, and click OK.

The table of contents will be generated using the style tags from the template; you will also be able to automatically update the TOC, both added headings and page numbers.

LIST OF TABLES

Table 4.1 A Sample Table Showing Correct Formatting .....	5
--	---

When you update the list of tables, the table number and title will come in without a period between them; you will need to manually add that period after all table numbers, as shown for Table 1. In addition, the title will retain the italics from the narrative when the List of Tables is updated. Once your list is finalized, select the entire list and change it all plain type.

LIST OF FIGURES

The List of Figures is not set up to automatically update. If you have figures in your document, type them in manually here, following the example above.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS (Optional)

This is an optional page for acknowledgments. It is a nice place to thank the faculty, family members, and friends who have helped you reach this point in your academic career.

No page number appears on any of the pages up to this point. If you do not wish to include this page, delete the heading and the body text; if a blank page remains, delete the page break above but leave the section break that you see below this text.

ABSTRACT

Student Name (as it appears in One Start)

TITLE OF PROJECT IN ALL CAPS AGAIN

In this document, I have attempted to create a report template to give students an example of the formatting style that must be followed. Obviously, all the sections would be longer than one page (as shown in the document), but this should provide a general guideline. Keep abstract to one page, around 200 words max. The abstract should give a brief overview of the literature review and each section of the project report, especially the findings and their implications. The report should be about 20,000 words, not including the reference section and appendices. If you are less than 10,000 (not including the reference section), you may want to reconsider some places that may need more depth in the literature review, methodology, or discussion section. For example, make sure you adequately outline why your findings are relevant and contribute to your field in the way of new knowledge. Ultimately, the length of your report should be discussed and agreed upon with the chair of your committee. You must follow the Table of Contents page for the order of your project report content. However, you may have additional subsections than listed here. Also, follow this document for page formatting, pagination, footnotes, and margins. The entire project report must be in Time Roman 12pt type. Font and font size may be varied for symbols or emphasis when appropriate (e.g., for scientific or mathematic terms).

CHAPER TWO: LITERATURE REVIEW

Subsection 1

Insert the text of your literature review here. Report the literature in past tense, as in Jones (2003) argued, not Jones (2003) argues.

Here are some additional tips for presenting data in vertical list form.

1. In the body of your paper, use this format when presenting information as a vertical list.
2. When the order of the items in the list is important, use a numbered list. Use a bulleted vertical list when you do not need to indicate a certain order or chronology.
  - This is an example of a bulleted list.
  - It follows the same format as for a numbered list, with the bullet point indented the same as a paragraph indent.

CHAPTER THREE: APPROACH TO SOLUTION

Suggested Approaches to Solve Problem

Discuss your approaches here, including the rationale on why you select this specific approach.

.....continued.....

Procedures to Solve Problem

Discuss your procedures in detail step by step.

CHAPTER FOUR: FINAL PROJECT DEVELOP

Developed Project (Outcomes)

Present how the finalized project looks like.

This is an example of a table in APA style (see Table 4.1).

Suggested Evaluation Method

This is an example of a figure labeled per APA style. Note that the label is placed under the figure itself. As with tables, refer to the figure by number in the narrative text preceding the placement of the figure (see Figure 1).

CHAPTER FIVE: DISCUSSION

Explanation of Outcomes

Insert discussions here.

CHAPTER SIX: CONCLUSION

Limitations (i.e., limitations or problems with the project or outcomes)

Insert conclusions, and recommendations here.

REFERENCE

Insert References here. Examples of some common types of references follow; see APA 6.22 and Chapter 7 for more details.

These sample entries are tagged with the “APA Reference” style tag, which means the line spacing and hanging indent are automatic. Apply the “APA Reference” style tag to your entries.

Pay special attention to italics, capitalization, and punctuation. The style tag does not govern those aspects of the entry.

APPENDICES (Optional)

Appendix A: Prototype

Insert appendix here. Appendices are ordered with letters rather than numbers.

If the only thing in an appendix is a table, the table title serves as the title of the appendix; no label is needed for the table itself. If you have text in addition to a table or tables in an appendix, label the table with the letter of the appendix (e.g., Table A1, Table A2, Table B1, and so on). These tables would be listed in the List of Tables at the end of the Table of Contents.

If you include in an appendix any prepublished materials that are not in the public domain, you must also include permission to do so.

CV

Include a copy of your curriculum vitae—your academic resume—here. The CV may be done in either basic outline form or full-sentence form. The CV must conform to the margin specifications of the rest of the document, be included in the pagination, and be listed in the TOC.

(Keep the Vita to one page)
